Oh, Oh! It's 'Hypertension Month'

Been feeling a bit harried the past couple weeks? Feel like you've just had no time to slow down?

Relax. It's to be expected. May is "Hypertension Month."

Well, that's not exactly what it means. It's really meant as a reminder that high blood pressure (doctors call it hypertension) could become a problem.

It is a common condition. In this country, over 21 million people have it, and most can be helped with proper medical care.

How can you tell if you have hypertension?

You can't. Even symptoms are not a good clue. Having your blood pressure checked is about the only sure way to know.

The Antioch Rescue Squad, in cooperation with the Lake County Heart Association, will be checking people's blood pressure. Saturday at various locations in town.

From 10 a.m. until 2 p.m., Rescue Squad members will be at Antioch Savings and Loan, the State Bank and (weather permitting) Orchard Plaza taking free blood pressure checks.

Opposes Landfill Expansion

After a lengthy telephone conversation with the Village Attorney, the Zoning Board of Appeals split 2-2 last week on the request of C.C.D. Disposal for rezoning to allow expansion of its landfill operation east of the industrial area.

Four affirmative votes are required for a favorable recommendation. Newly-appointed board member James Fields was not present for the meeting. Earl Pape was present but was called away during the meeting.

Frank Kuechenmeister originally moved to approve the rezoning to M-2 (heavy industry) with a special-use permit for the landfill, on the condition that it revert to M-1 (light industry) when the landfill is completed.

Fred Geiger, attorney for the objectors, questioned the legality of such a condition.

WHEN THE VOTE was taken, Kuechenmeister and Tom Haley voted for, Dick Burnette and Ted Burbridge voted against.

It was at this point that Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz was asked to phone Village Attorney Andrew Lynch for an opinion on the legality of the motion.

Lynch advised that since the motion received only two affirmative votes it had been defeated; hence, there was no need to determine whether the motion itself was proper.

He suggested, however, that the board vote on the original petition with no conditions attached, so that the Village Board would have a definite recommendation to guide them.

Haley made that motion, and -- after three calls -- Kuechenmeister seconded it.

The lineup on this vote was the same as that on the first motion. Chairman Grant Spong declared the motion defeated.

Upper Grade School Gets New Trees

Students at the Antioch Upper Grade school planted 51 trees and shrubs on the school grounds last week.

The trees, hopefully marking the beginning of a five-year planting program at the school, are the result of the Operation Spruce-Up campaign conducted last year.

Seedling spruce trees donated by the First National Bank were sold by students a year ago, raising over $900.

The Antioch Garden Club and the Upper Grade School Land, Air, Water (L.A.W.) Club also contributed toward the trees and shrubs.

Only a part of the funds were used this year, Science teacher Mary Kern said, leaving money to continue the plantings in the future.

She said that the students followed the landscape architect's drawing from the original school plan to locate where to plant the trees and shrubs.

Rotary Club Barbeque Set For Sept. 21

Saturday, Sept. 21, is the day the Rotary Club will hold its barbeque, antique auction and dance.

The event will be at St.

Peter's social center beginning about 6 p.m. The auction will follow dinner and there will be dancing till 1 a.m.

Vern Thelen, chairman, says that Wilder Faye, well-known in the Peoria area for his barbecued pork chops, has been retained for the event.

Any money raised will be used by the Rotarians for a worthwhile community project.

2 School Break-ins

The Antioch Upper Grade and Channel Lake schools were broken into during the night of May 3-4, with loss estimated at more than $1,000.

Antioch police reported that entry was gained to the Upper Grade building by forcing a door and then breaking a lock and chain.

The thief apparently tried to pry open the main office closet, but was unsuccessful. Several pieces of equipment were reported taken from the office.

At Channel Lake, a police official noted, the method of operation appeared to be the same.

Letters to the Editor are invited. Letters must be signed and signatures will be withheld only if there is a good reason. The Antioch News reserves the right to edit. And please be brief. As Shakespeare said, "Brevity is the soul of wit."

Dear Sir:

The May 8, 1974 news item of Rep. Daniel Pierce (D-Highland Park) regarding his statement to the effect that "I will oppose Blair's bill because it is hastily drafted and not in accord with the wishes of the suburban people I represent." Is there a Lake and McHenry counties somewhere else where the voters decided that they wanted the RTA?

According to the results that were published after the official canvass I understand that the McHenry voters said NO on a 12 1/2 to 1 basis and Lake Countians voted about 2.8 to 1 against the RTA. Mr. Pierce maybe after the next election in your bailiwick you will say that even though the voters say no to another term for you that it is not the wishes of the suburban people you represent. Let's get in touch with the times.

Sincerely,
E.E. Archambault

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The Lake County Animal Protection Association would like to thank everyone that delivered glass to their glass mobile at the Jewel Parking Lot on the weekend of May 4th and 5th. Also the Jewel Store for permitting us to have the unit there for the second time.

We collected a total of 12,700 lbs. of glass in the unit. At our November drive we collected a total of 11,600 lbs. We would like to do even better at our next drive.

The glass mobile unit will be here again on September 28th and 29th, and we hope everyone will start collecting now for that drive. You are helping our organization and also ecology by depositing your glass.

It might interest you to know, it cost $50.00 to rent this glass unit which is 2 1/2 tons of glass before we even start to make any money for the organization. That is why we depend on the loyal support of each and everyone of you.

The money is needed for educational materials to continue our school programs. We must educate our "adults of tomorrow" on humane care and treatment of animals, along with curbing the over-population of pets.

If any one is interested in knowing more about our organization, its purposes and goals, drop us a note in our Post Office Box.

Thank you again and see you in September.

Summer Store Hours Suggested

Retail summer store hours will begin in Antioch on the Memorial Day weekend, which will be celebrated April 24-27.

Memorial Day is on Monday, April 27, this year.

The Chamber of Commerce is recommending that stores be open on Sundays from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m., and on Monday and Friday evenings until 9 p.m.

Young Zoning Back in Trustees' Hands

Harold and Alice Young's petition for multiple family zoning was sent back to the Village Board with no further action on the part of the Zoning Board of Appeals.

The petition was originally filed last September.

In March, the ZBA failed to achieve the required four votes to recommend in favor of the zoning -- two of the six members being absent from that meeting -- and forwarded the petition to the Village Board as recommending denial.

At the Young's urging, the trustees sent it back to the ZBA for another vote, with hopes that more members would be present.

Meanwhile, the terms of the two absent members expired, and they were replaced on the Board.

After some discussion of the matter last Tuesday night, ZBA member Tom Haley suggested, "It is only fair to send this back to the Village Board and ask them to reconsider what we sent them originally." He said that it would be too difficult to apprise the new members of all that had gone before in the case.

"It's their (the trustees') decision," Haley added.

Tornado paths have varied in length from a few feet to almost 300 miles.

Buy At Home

Every resident of this community has a stake in its future, an obligation to join with others in making it a better place in which to live.

In this connection, dollars spent at home have a tendency to recirculate in the community, to be spent and enjoyed by other local citizens. Dollars sent out of the community seldom return.

Likewise, contributions to good causes, deserving unfortunates, charities, youth and educational programs, are best made here at home, where results can be seen and appreciated, and which benefit the community.

Civic pride and cooperation among citizens of this community can and will make this a better place to live in.

The Kidnappers

Kidnappings are once again news on the American scene. Such crimes pose a difficult decision for parents and other loved ones, since fatal risks to the kidnapped are involved.

The famed Lindbergh kidnapping in the thirties, however, taught the nation only firmness can thwart abductions and ransom demands and this is probably still true, even with our new television generation.

When the nation moved four decades ago to make kidnapping a federal crime, such abductions practically ceased. Firm enforcement now of tough federal statutes already on the books is the major hope to prevent a fresh wave of kidnappings.

Latin American kidnappers demanding money for the poor Arab terrorists and certain others (some in this country) allegedly acting for righteous causes, have encouraged the current trend. Compliance with often childish ransom demands and dreams, while understandable, will only encourage juvenile and criminal minds.

Ford's Seat

Vice President Gerald Ford's former congressional seat was won recently by a Democrat in a close contest in Michigan. Democrats immediately hailed the triumph as a signal November's national elections would produce a Democratic sweep.

That may be. But the Republican in the Michigan race predicted defeat, and in the final tally lost by the slimmest of margins, so nothing is certain, never is in politics. That being said, however, the result is unmistakably a sober warning to Republicans.

Michigan's G.O.P. party chief blamed Watergate for the defeat and national party chairman George Bush admitted concern. Traditionally, a Republican is favored in Michigan's 5th District, and no Democrat had held this seat since 1910. That is why the narrow Democratic victory is significant.

In the past, Republican victors had often polled about sixty per cent of the total vote and Democrats less than forty per cent. In the recent election the Democratic victor received 51 per cent, apparently a voter switch of better than ten per cent. In politics ten per cent is a very substantial, usually decisive, shift—and thus the significance of the vote in Michigan's 5th District.

Ask the Governor

Q. What job training and education programs exist in the state corrections facilities to prepare an offender for release?

A. The Illinois Parole and Pardon Board paroles about 1,000 residents per year. One-third of these parolees have participated in the Department of Corrections' seven work release centers, prior to their release on parole.

Offenders who participated in work release centers have a lower recidivism rate than those who have not participated. Recidivism means that an offender who has served time and is paroled is rearrested and returned to the corrections system.

The national recidivism rate for 1971 was 23 percent according to the National Council on Crime and Delinquency; for 1972 in Illinois it was 16 percent.

Evaluations of two work release centers have been completed. The first year recidivism rate for releasees from the Joliet work release center in 1972 was 13 percent. Of the 33 work releasees who were paroled from Fox Valley in 1973, none were rearrested during the first year.

Since the inception of work release in 1969, more than 1500 men and women offenders have applied and been accepted into the program which allows them to live in a residence designated as a work release center. These men and women either attend classes or work during the day at regular jobs in the community.

Offenders may enter the program six months before their release on parole. Although participants range from minimum to maximum security classification, they have been carefully selected following an investigation into their criminal background and behavior.

When a person is transferred to the work release center he or she begins looking for a job. The center's employment coordinator encourages participants to look for work consistent with their experience and likely to teach new skills.

The wages a person earned on work release belong to the wage earner. The program requires putting a portion of these earnings into a savings account. The wage earner must pay for room and board. The rest can be sent back to family members, used to pay debts or for personal expenses.

The philosophy guiding work release is that employment and educational experience will help a person develop good working habits and skills, at the same time helping with family support, offsetting the cost of imprisonment and building a savings account for use on release.

The goal of work release is to help the offender return to society as a productive citizen.

The Department of Corrections plans to add three new centers. Work release is currently operating in Aurora, Carbondale, Peoria, Joliet, Chicago Metro, and two in Chicago (one for women and one for offenders with drug problems.)

What would you like to know about state government? Gov. Dan Walker welcomes your questions. Some, with the answers, may appear in this column. Letters must give the writer's name and address. Upon request your name will be withheld. Send to: ASK THE GOVERNOR, Illinois Information Service, 201 W. Monroe St., Springfield, Ill. 62706.

Arnie Gets Barbara, Jack Gets Winnie

By JERRY PFARR

Remember the story that made headlines last year, about two New York Yankee pitchers swapping wives, kids and pet dogs?

The thing that bothers me is that the idea might catch on in other sports.

It's okay for that sort of thing to happen in baseball. After all, the language of the dugout isn't much of a lifestyle anyway.

But, gee whiz, what if it spread to other sports? Something high class, such as golf.

Of my goodness! Speak of the devil! Stories are coming over the wire right now:

LIGONIER, Pa. (UPI) — Arnold Palmer looked up from putting practice today and announced that he is swapping wives with Jack Nicklaus.

"But don't make this out to be cheap," Palmer said, echoing the words used by Yankee pitcher Fritz Peterson in a similar announcement.

"Jack and I agreed it wasn't a wife swap, but a life swap," Palmer added.

"Jack also gets my kids, my horses, my jet, my laundry and my army," Palmer continued.

"After all, he's my best friend."

What did your wife say about it, Arnold?

"It didn't make any difference to Winnie. She says I'm never home anyway."

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, contacted at his local bank here today, admitted it was true — he is swapping wives and lives with his good friend, Arnold Palmer.

"The idea came to us the other day as we were walking down the 15th fairway," Nicklaus revealed. "Arnie asked me, 'How's Barbara?' and I said, 'Barbara who?'"

"It was then that I realized I haven't seen her since the wedding," Nicklaus shrugged, cashing a check for $150,000.

"Everything. The whole works," Nicklaus said. "After all, Arnold is more than a friend. Without his contributions to the game, we golfers would still be playing for a dime a hole, double on birdies. I owe my whole life to Arnold."

Then Nicklaus thought for a moment. "Except my putter," he snapped. "He doesn't get my putter"

LAKE GENEVA, Wis. (UPI) — New York Jets Quarterback Joe Namath, surrounded by friends at the Playboy Club Resort here, said he is disturbed by a new trend that seems to be sweeping the sports world.

"It's disgusting," Namath said. "Athletes are supposed to set a good example for other people. You don't have to worry about that sort of thing happening in professional football. No sir, I ain't swapping with anybody."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

In the Bible in St. Matthew 4 we read how Jesus went about Galilee, teaching, preaching, and healing. The understanding of man's perfection will be brought out this Sunday at Churches of Christ, Scientist in the Bible Lesson-Sermon on "MORTALS AND IMMORTALS."

From Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy this citation will be read: "Man is more than a material form with a mind inside, which must escape from its environments in order to be immortal. Man reflects infinity, and this reflection is the true idea of God."

Services at First Church of Christ, Scientist, BEACON HILL, Rte 173 and Harden, Antioch, Illinois begin at 11 a.m. They are conducted by Mrs. Barba Conzelman, First Reader, and Mrs. Lorraine Wirt, Second Reader.

Glen Amundsen, James Fischer In Honor Society

ROCK ISLAND -- Glen E. Amundsen and James L. Fischer, both of Antioch, have been initiated into Akros, freshman men's honor society, at Augustana College.

Glen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Amundsen, 508 First St., and James' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lennard Fischer, 1041 Bishop St., all of Antioch.

American Legion Auxiliary

On Friday and Saturday, May 24-25, the crimson poppies, the memorial flower of the American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary will be seen on lapels, shirts and dresses. The poppies tribute to our nation's war dead. Their color of scarlet red serves as a reminder that the blood of our gallant dead has made possible the survival of this "Land of Liberty."

The flower may also remind you that those who made them are still confined to V.A. hospitals because of injuries, mental and physical, inflicted during their years of service to the United States.

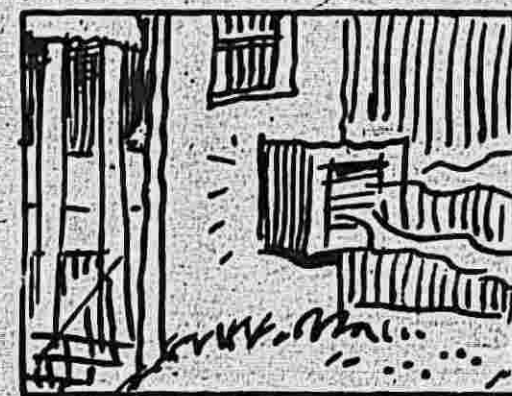

The Legion and Auxiliary distribute the poppies and through your donations carry on rehabilitation services. A coke, cigarettes, paper or magazine may be a small item to want, but these funds let the veteran purchase them for himself.

Last year more than $12,000 was returned to the hospitalized men and woman who made the poppies.

Grass Lake School News

The Board of Education, District 36, has announced that a referendum will be held on Saturday, June 8, for the purpose of raising the Educational Fund rate 45 cents.

This decision, along with reductions in school staff, was made "in light of the critical financial situation that exists," according to Supt. William Hart.

The Board has been holding regular meetings regarding the present budget and looking ahead to next year's possibilities in controlling the budget.

Mr. Hart said that every attempt on budget control has been utilized since 1966.

when the present educational rate of 1.04 was approved.

Hart said that increases in the number of students, material and operating costs, number of staff, and inflation have made it impossible to maintain the present programs effectively based on 1966 rates at 1974 costs.

A meeting with the Grass Lake School PTO has been scheduled for Monday, May 20, at 7:30 p.m. in the school gymnasium. The public is invited.

La Chance-Walpole Nuptials

Mr. and Mrs. Scott LaChance honeymooned in Jamaica after their marriage in St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Lindenhurst.

Scott and the former Jennifer Walpole repeated their vows in an early evening ceremony read by Pastor Harold Nelson. The reception was held in the Lindenhurst Civic Center.

The bride, daughter of Mr. Frederick Walpole and Mrs. Frances Walpole of Antioch, wore a floor length gown of white moracaine jersey enhanced with pearl trim. The bodice was fashioned with a high neckline and long full sleeves. The skirt was slightly shirred with a chapel length train. Her chapel length veil was held to a flora headpiece.

Miss Gayle Racine was maid of honor and Robert Leffler was best man. Sandi Stewart and Wendy Stout were bridesmaids and Kent Barlow and Frank Nevitt were ushers.

Scott is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred LaChance of Lindenhurst.

Both the bride and groom are 1973 graduates of Antioch Community High School. Jenny is employed by Illinois Bell Telephone in the Wheeling office and Scott is employed by National Metal Fabricators in Elk Grove, Illinois.

Clever Clovers in Busy Month

Two special events highlighted the Clever Clovers 4-H Club this past month.

The club had its annual achievement night May 2, with members demonstrating projects from the past year.

Tom Poulos, Michael Eallon and Beverly Givens described various ways to identify rocks for geology. From fields to the kitchen, Annette Zitkus showed how to make a relish tray to go with Susan Williams' sandwich.

Members then went to the sewing room where Judy Houghton, Lori Rush and Shirley Fosmark demonstrated sewing and pattern layouts. A brief history of stitchery was given by Lorna Whitton, and Cheryl Poulos told how to knit your favorite hat.

A home needs a good interior decorator, so Marsha Fallon explained a color wheel, and Beth McLellan described how to do ceramics.

All of those projects are intended to prepare youth for their future lives.

Club members served refreshments to their parents for the special occasion.

Second event for the club was participation in the county "Share the Fun" program.

The Clever Clovers earned a blue ribbon (A) for their comedy, "P.S. No. 34," portraying a typical classroom when a substitute teacher tries to manage a rowdy class. Mrs. Martha Fallon directed the group.

After the judging was completed, club members went out for supper to celebrate.

GARDENING MISTAKES

1. Poor feeding habits. The food that makes your grass grow greenest may produce anemic flowers. Generally fertilizers with a high percentage of nitrogen are best for leaf and root crops; flowers and many vegetables do better on a formula with more phosphorus. Too much fertilizer of any kind can kill plants by dehydrating their rootlets. Be leary of lime as well. Many gardeners assume their soil needs lime when it doesn't. A test can tell you for sure. Extra liming can only hurt growth and it's a needless expense.

2. Letting the pests get the best of you. One single aphid can lead to 1,560,000,000,000,000,000,000 more! So, spray early and often with an efficient insecticide such as nicotine sulphate. Unlike many of the more modern "miracle-poison" pesticides, which your mites might easily become immune to, this naturally occurring bug killer, popularly known as Black Leaf 40, has kept the pest population down for over 80 years! Because it's a biodegradable insecticide made from tobacco leaves and alcohol, Black Leaf 40 can remain on target without leaving dangerous residues. Non-caustic and harmless to plants, pets, people, birds or beneficial bugs, Black Leaf 40 can be sprayed alone or in combination with other pesticides, to "gas" bugs away two ways: with fumes and on contact!

3. Toiling with the wrong tools. Most gardeners need a shovel, spading fork, steel rake, wooden rake, hoe, cultivator, grass edger, several types of shears, pen-knife, trowel, wheelbarrow, spreader, sprayer, watering can and gardening gloves. Never leave these outdoors and always wash them after use. As for your lawn mower, don't let the blades get dull or they'll split the grass tops and turn them brown!

If you give your garden good care, you should be able to beat the bugs, win out over the weeds and reap great rewards!

HE KNEW

"Do not cry; I'll take you home," said the farmer to the little girl when he found her in his meadow.

"I knew you would come. I was waiting for you," said the child, smiling and snuggling up close.

"Waiting for me?" asked the man. "What made you think I was coming?"

"I was praying that you would," answered the little girl.

"Praying? When I heard you, you were saying 'ABCDEFGH...' What was that for?"

The little child looked up again and explained, "I'm just a little girl. I was praying all the letters of the alphabet and letting God put them together the way He wanted. He knew I was lost, and He knew how to put the words together better than I did."

Stand For Something!

One of the greatest things that can be said of a man is that he kept his record clean.

It is not difficult to find a good lawyer, a good doctor, a good insurance man, but it is not so easy to find a real man. What the world wants, and what God wants, is men who have principle underlying their business, men who stand for something in their circle.

Everywhere we see people using deception and dishonest methods to put over a deal, or for some purpose. They think they are helping themselves along, and sometimes they do get what they are after, but sooner or later, their method is found out and, after all, they are only deceiving themselves.

The man who lives four-square, with his family, with his business, with his friends and with himself, has nothing to cover up. He can lead a peaceful life, for he is not living in constant fear of discovery.

Our good friend Ken Johnson reminds us that the room for improvement is the largest room in the world.

And wasn't it Will Rogers who said:

"Everybody is ignorant, only on different subjects."

NOW THAT Mother's Day is over, I know what I want for Father's Day.

A golf umbrella. Last summer I never thought of buying one, except on three occasions when I was out on the course and it started raining.

In case my kids are reading this, I noticed that Walsh's All Seasons has a neat selection of golf umbrellas. And a complete line of beautiful golf bags and clubs, too.

That's at Three-Eighty-FOUR! Lake Street.

IN A WAY my favorite day of the year has always been Thanksgiving, because I just love that big meal of turkey, dressing, cranberries, etc.

Since I've been lunching at The Vault restaurant a lot lately, I've found their Hot Turkey Sandwich makes it seem like Thanksgiving every time I order it. Fantastic.

NOT TOO LONG ago I was in Green Bay and had occasion to visit the office of Coach Dan Devine of the Packers.

He had something there that I really liked. In a frame was a "Deskside Prayer," which said, in part:

"Slow me down, Lord. Ease the pounding of my heart by the quiet of my mind. . . Steady my hurried pace with the vision of the eternal reach of time. . . Teach me the art of taking Minute Vacations. . . of slowing down to look at a flower, to chat with a friend, to pat a dog, to read a few lines from a good book. . ."

Have to get one of those for my own desk.

'Hindsight's Better Than Foresight'

By Father Keusal

We have often heard the expression "a person makes his own hell right down on earth." I wonder though if you have ever considered the opposite statement - a person makes his own heaven here on earth. It seems that we pretty much understand the first statement with all its connotations. The second statement is just as true - we do make our own heaven, but for some reason that statement doesn't seem to have the same strong connotation.

We do in a way make our own heaven very much the same way we plan a trip. Let's say that you are planning to go somewhere on vacation this summer but you're not sure where. Until you are definite about a location the plans remain fuzzy. You have little concern about the means you are going to use to get to your destination. There's no excitement or motivation about the trip, as a matter of fact the uncertainty makes you nervous. You might get angry about the vacation. However, once you decide where you want to go, the means of getting there takes on enthusiasm and excitement and the entire event of planning the trip becomes a very enjoyable process.

Could it be that some people have not yet decided where they want their life to lead them. Most people are not likely to choose hell as their life's destination, but many of them aren't so sure of heaven. So they fumble around afraid to commit themselves one way or the other. In the process they make themselves nervous and their nerves lead to anger and they find that they have created their own hell.

A person who takes the leap of faith and makes a commitment to reaching heaven - establishing a definite relationship to be with God - all of a sudden might find the means of achieving this goal. They might find joy in having decided on a goal and find themselves in the process of creating their heaven.

THE HOME GAME

by MARY FUREY CRYMES

ENAMEL GLOW — A cup of laundry borax in a pail of warm water is what gives shine and sparkle to porcelain enamel. Makes sense; borax is the stuff in the coat that makes it shiny to begin with. Use it on stoves, refrigerators and cookware that's enamel-coated.

BIRD REST — Some chefs maintain that the way to roast any fowl is on its side. Makes for tender, juicy chicken, turkey or whatever. And, if you remember to put a couple of pieces of string under the bird, with ends trailing over the sides of the pan, you can lift it out easily by gathering these in both hands.

HOLE TIGHTENER — Your good kitchen lifoleum can be mended, but patching burn holes or tears is tricky business. You need a cork, cut into pieces, and then pulverized fine. Do this with a mortar and pestle, or by rubbing it to a powder between boards. Mix cork with shellac to form a thick paste and brush this in hole until you've raised it to the level of the surrounding rug. Sand after it dries, then paint to blend with other colors.

Gem Talk

by William R. Mauch of Hahn Jewelers

How Much Does a Carat Diamond Cost?

This is a frequently heard question at most jewelry stores—and it well illustrates the lack of familiarity with diamond values possessed by the average layman. We at Hahn Jewelers, unlike many jewelers, do not answer this question evasively or flippantly. We find that the average purchaser, lacking expertise, still expects as much assimilable information as possible to aid him in selecting the best diamond value and we are happy to cooperate. Of course, on a subject requiring a lifetime of experience for mastery, only an extremely basic knowledge can be gained. However, these basics, coupled with the confidence in the integrity and skill of your jeweler can usually assure a satisfying purchase. The classic guidelines of diamond quality are often referred to as the 4 C's — i.e. Color, Clarity, Cut and Carat weight.

Color, in the opinion of many gemologists is a paramount virtue — in viewing a diamond the color is the most initially apparent feature of a stone. Strangely, the ideal "color" is a total absence of color and is rare. Slight tinges of yellow detract from the beauty of a diamond — and reduce its value proportionately.

Clarity refers to the presence or absence of various imperfections in the stone. Spots of black, unresolved carbon, full or partial fractures, "feathers" or cloudy areas or even tiny portions of matrix in or on the stone greatly reduce the value of a diamond.

Cut of the diamond refers to the proportions of the stone and also affects beauty & value greatly. Round diamonds are referred to as brilliant cut — although gem cut & American cut are synonymous. Old Mine and European cut diamonds are round stones of an earlier era and are becoming increasingly rare due to the fact that none have been produced in recent years due to lack of demand. The newer cut greatly increases brilliance and beauty — obviating Mine & European cuts which have less value. Marquise, emerald cut, pear cut, ovals and other "fancy" cuts are usually more expensive (other factors being equal) than round cuts due to the greater scarcity of rough diamonds adaptable in shape to these cuts — but are normally less brilliant and less "fiery" than round diamonds.

To summarize, a carat diamond may cost from as little as $150.00, or less, to more than $2000.00, depending on the foregoing value factors. For maximum beauty we must emphasize that even the finest stone can depend to a considerable extent on the mounting in which it is set. We are justly proud, at Hahn's, not only of enormous selection of lovely and well made mountings — but also of the fast, highly professional diamond setting service in our modern on-the-premises shop. In the event that you do not find what you want in our hundreds of styles — remember we can custom design and create a ring to suit your taste.

Our skilled jewelers have a remarkable total of over 65 years experience in working with fine jewelry and gems.

Our prices are amazingly moderate and we are equipped to handle even the most complex job speedily and expertly. We are always happy to give you a quotation — and completely without obligation, of course!

We hope you will visit our beautiful and modern store soon!

Curly has long been an outstanding bowler in the area and is recognized for her many high games and series.

Curly received an award from the league for her accomplishments and received the high game pin from the Lake County Women's Bowling Association.

She was a member of the First National Bank team this year.

Girl Track Star Wins State Berth

Antioch Community High School participated in its first girls track meet Saturday and qualified one member of its team for the state championships.

Michelle Blanchette placed first in the 110-yard low hurdles in a district meet at Wheeling. She also qualified in the 80 yard hurdles by finishing second.

The state meet will be held Saturday at Eastern Illinois University in Charleston.

Antioch's three coaches, Christy Arendt, Barb Schofield and Elaine Weidner, took 20 girls to the big district meet at Wheeling. Twenty-one schools were involved in the colorful spectacle.

ACHS also came close to qualifying girls in the shot put and discus, Mozell Roth and Wynn Vos placing among the top 10 in those events.

More than 20 ACHS girls will return to the local track this Thursday for a 4:30 p.m. dual meet against Stevenson High.

Grudge Race at Waukegan

A second grudge race has been scheduled for the Waukegan Speedway this Sunday night when the track's two leading feature winners go 10 laps in a 'winner-take-all' match race.

Ray Young, two-time champ and winner of 36 main events, and Bob Roper, defending champion and winner of 23 Waukegan features, will race at intermission time. A flip of the coin will decide the inside starting berth.

Last Sunday Roper and Tom Jones squared off for 10-laps with Roper leading all the way for the big win. Roper then stormed back to win the 30-lap main event after starting last.

Young saw Roper snap his string of consecutive feature wins last Sunday, but literally pushed Roper across the finish line.

Roper holds the track records at Waukegan at 6-laps, 30-laps, 50-laps and 100-laps...the 100-lap record coming Aug. 9, 1969, when he pushed past Young for the win in the 99th lap.

Young will race his bright orange 1973 Mustang No. 99 in the match race and Roper will be behind the wheel of the 1974 Vega No. 20. In addition a full program of late model super stock and hobby racing is on the card which will start at 8 p.m.

Little League Season Opens Sunday at 1 P.M.

OF TRAVEL

THE QUESTION OF YOUR VACATION

Q. In the interests of the national economy, should I cancel my 1974 vacation?

A. Not at all. It could actually hurt the economy to curtail your travel plans now. The $61 billion travel industry is a vital branch of American business and if tourism is cut off, the repercussions could effect employment all across the country.

Q. Will the energy crisis make it too difficult for me to make travel plans now?

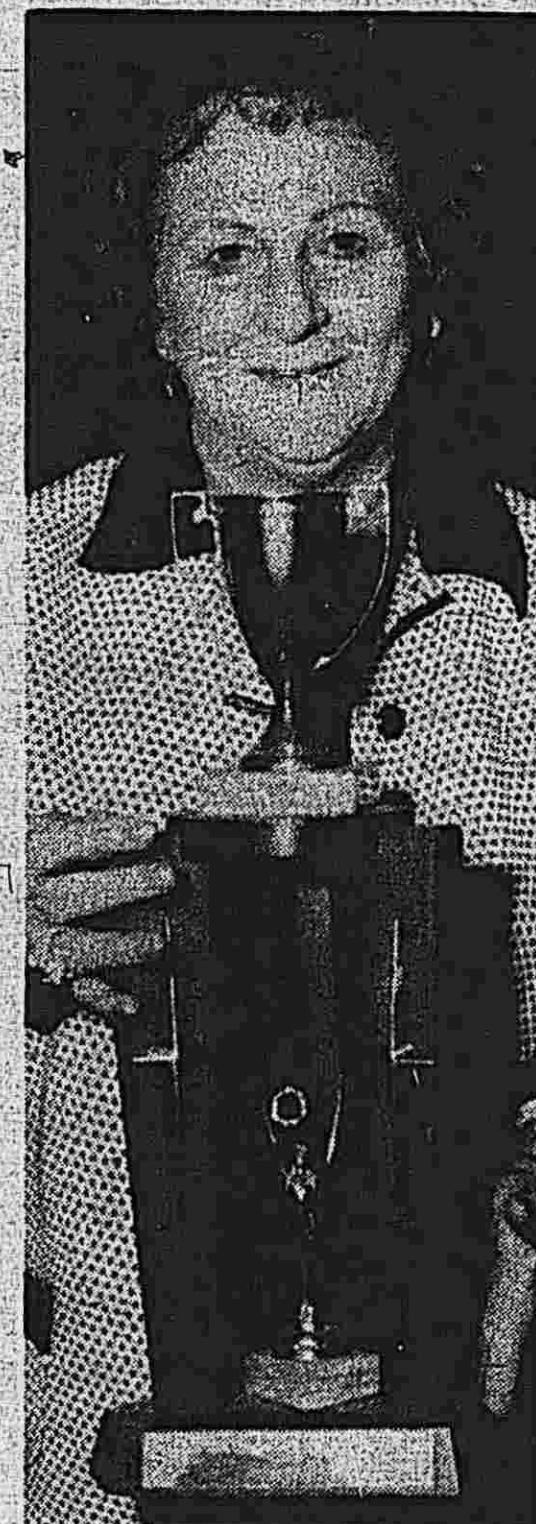

A. You can still have fun if you make your plans with care-and expert advice. Your travel agent can be a tremendous help.

Check to see if the agent is a member of the American Society of Travel Agents (ASTA), the largest professional travel trade organization in the world. A travel agent will have up-to-the-minute news of planes, prices, schedules, tariffs, surcharges, and practically every aspect of today's complicated travel world.

The zaniest baseball holdout probably was George "Rube" Ellis, crack St. Louis outfielder, back in 1908. Ellis refused to sign his contract until he got what he was holding out for - $2.50 - to buy a new fielder's glove!

Does your child know God?

Growing up is easier when a child can turn confidently to God. When he knows that God loves him and is always present to help him.

In the Christian Science Sunday School, pupils learn to know God as a close friend and helper. They receive teaching based on the Bible that they can use every day. Your children are always welcome.

Army Vet Gives Flag to Village

Ret. Master Sgt. U.S. Army Russell E. Johnson presents flag that covered his father's casket at a military funeral in 1958 to Antioch Police Chief Jack Wells (center) and Lt. Tim Zelinski. His father Charles was a veteran of the Spanish-American War in 1898. Sgt. Johnson said he felt that this flag would better serve on the flag pole in the park of Antioch than repose in a trunk someplace.

Since his retirement from the U.S. Army in 1961 Sgt. Johnson has travelled and decided to make Antioch his home in 1965. Sgt. Johnson spent thirty years in the Army, most of it in the infantry. He holds the Silver Star, Purple Heart with Cluster and the Combat Infantry Badge with star for its second award. He also wears the Jump Master Badge of the Paratroopers.

Sgt. Johnson is known as "Sarge" to his many friends in Antioch.

Seventh Graders Take Survey

Seventh grade "mini-school" students at Antioch Upper Grade school will conduct a survey Friday morning.

Purpose of the survey is to compile data on the public's experiences with flying machines and the public's attitude toward today's space program, teacher Gail Guthrie stated.

Several students will cover Antioch's business area, while others will take a door-to-door survey in residential areas.

Teachers expressed appreciation for citizen cooperation with the project.

Homeowners are requested, however, not to invite students into homes.

MEDICINE CHEST

Do tranquilizers lose their strength or change after a year? -- R.M.

They probably don't change much in a year, but you may have. One of the worst things in the world for you to do is go back into the medicine cabinet and sample old prescriptions. If you need help, go back to your doctor and let him decide whether you need a tranquilizer or something else.

Can you recommend some good books on folk medicine? -- L.H.

You can buy "Folk Medicine" by D.C. Jarvis, M.D., in paperback, a hardcover book called "Of Men and Plants" or the very popular "Foxfire" books in paperback. I recommend the Foxfire books, not only for their content, but for the unique way in which they came about. Read them.

How many kinds of penicillin are there? -- J.A.

There are at least a dozen different variations of penicillin. For example: benzathine penicillin G, phenoxymethyl penicillin, and potassium penicillin G. This does not include the brands of penicillin in which manufacturers duplicate the same variation.

What drugs are used to treat high blood pressure? -- J.T.

General classes of drugs used to treat hypertension are: 1. derivatives of the plant Rauwolfia serpentina (Indian snake root); 2. diuretics (drugs that increase urinary flow); 3. ganglionic blocking agents; 4. miscellaneous which include methyldopa, guanethidine, and hydralazine.
